

TOP TIPS:
Writing Award-Winning Books in Multiple Genres
with Cristina Istrati

These amazing writing tips are compliments of The Writing Gym.
The Writing Gym helps writers to improve their writing and to become published authors.

See more at www.writing-gym.com

Writing Award-Winning Books in Multiple Genres with Cristina Istrati

- Sometimes your writing inspiration may be found in a literal dream. Keep a dream journal. Maybe flying on a fried egg across the ocean with a zebra and your high school best friend can become the beginning of your next great story. Or not..but you never know until you try.
- Remember the importance of following your intuition. When you start writing, you create your own universe and when the writing is true to you and becomes part of you, how can you not be confident and believe in what you're doing?
- Follow your passion and substitute that drive for your confidence until you build it up enough to feel comfortable with your work.
-
- You have to show up to work.

To Listen www.writing-gym.com/genres

To give your writing a workout & get buff enough to publish, visit www.writing-gym.com | ©2017

Writing Award-Winning Books in Multiple Genres with Cristina Istrati

Join the Writing Gym for more HOT writing tips.

*How to get over the perception that “you can’t make a living as a writer.”

* How to find passion and confidence in your writing life

* the balance between natural talent and showing up to do the work

* how to write successfully in multiple genres

About Our Guest

Cristina Istrati is a renowned author living in Romania. She received the Mihai Eminescu International Literature Award in 2011 after publishing her first book “Seductive Ambiguity.” Cristina finished her second book “Noble Ambition” in 2011 and is currently working not only on a third romance novel, but a fantasy/adventure series for children and young adults.

To Listen www.writing-gym.com/genres

To give your writing a workout & get buff enough to publish, visit www.writing-gym.com | ©2017